FORREST A. GLASS

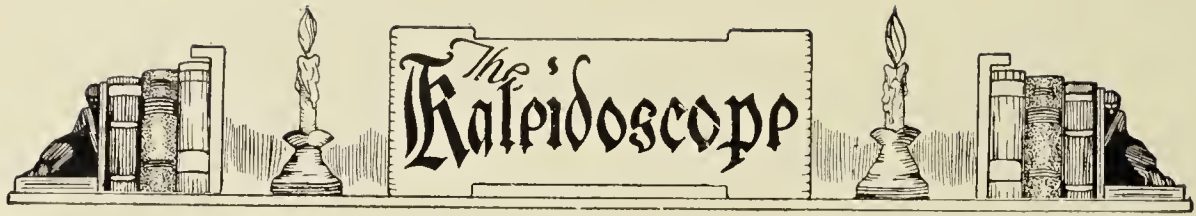

HOPEWELL HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword . . .

Not as an imperishable chronicle, but simply as a reminder of other times and other friends, we present to you

The Kaleidoscope

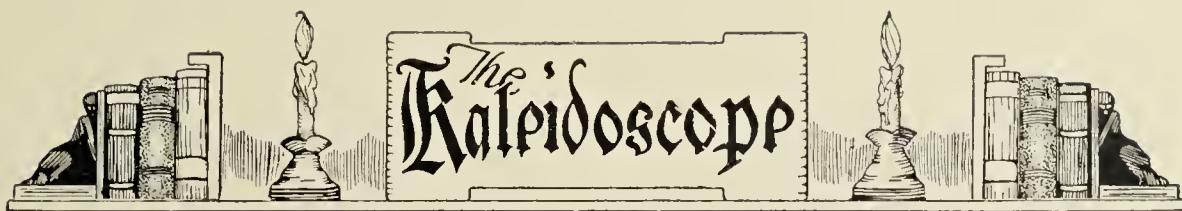

Dedicated . . .

To our Fathers
and Mothers

Whose love for us and faith in us is exceeded only by their charity toward our weakness,
we do dedicate this book

Because we feel that,
In the heaven above,
The angels whispering
To one another
Can find among their
Burning terms of love,
None so devotional
As that of father and mother.

—E. A. Poe.

Alma Mater

In the heart of Hopewell City
Wonderful for you,
Is our dear old Alma Mater
Of the gold and blue.

Open your hearts to hear her praises
And you'll never fail;
Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Hopewell High Schol, Hail!

We are learning more each day
Duty, hope, and truth.
The best years of our lives
Days of fleeting youth.

"Kaleidoscope" Staff

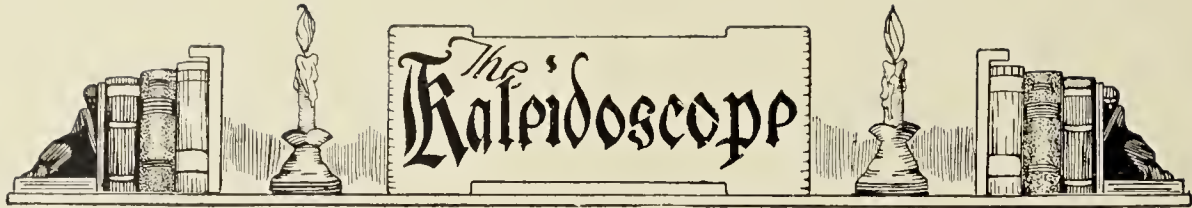

HIS "Kaleidoscope" staff consists of members of the Senior Class, exclusively. While they number not a single genius among them their composite efforts have accomplished a very satisfactory volume which they take pleasure in presenting to the faculty and student body of Hopewell High. We feel that the annual is representative of the school's work in its entirety.

Mr. Smith, our faculty adviser, has proved himself most valuable in directing our efforts.

*"Farewell! a word that must be, and hath been—
A sound which makes us linger—yet, farewell!"*

THE MEMBERS of the faculty of your school must part with the Seniors in a few days, but their interest in you as individuals and as a class will persist through the coming years. You have asked that they convey to you some message that you may carry with you into your approaching adulthood. Accordingly, each department has been asked to prepare a brief farewell message. Below they are given as expressed by some member of each department:

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT:

"The Commercial Department brings luck and best wishes to your every effort in all business affairs in the future and hopes that all may be successful."

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT:

"May the beauty and enjoyment you have found in your English classes enrich your whole future."

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT:

"Vale bonaque fortuna per vitam vobiscum sit."

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT:

"Of service to mankind! May that be said of your achievements as truly as it is said of mathematics."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT:

"The healthiest department in school wishes for you abundant, vigorous and joyous physical strength through a long life, and hopes that you may meet each play of the game of life in the true spirit of sportsmanship."

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT:

"The Science Department hopes that you may apply those exact principles given you in science, to your every activity in planning and carrying on your future."

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT:

"The Social Science Department of your school can wish for you no greater happiness in your future life, than that of being able to cooperate with others in desirable ways."

"Learn something beautiful, see something beautiful, do something beautiful each day of your life."

—Palmer's "Three Rules of Happiness"

LIBRARY:

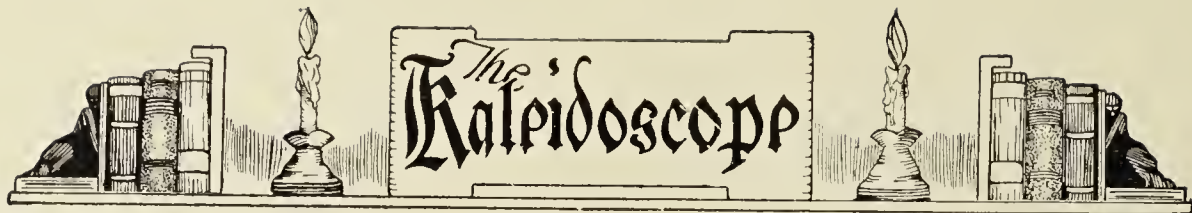

"Good books are your best friends. They are constant, uncomplaining, and beneficial. Take them, as such, wherever you go, to encourage in time of trouble, solve many problems, and bring joy in time of leisure."

THE OFFICE:

"The Office hopes that you may not be tardy to Success nor absent when Opportunity knocks at the door of your future."

"The June time brings these fruitful days of life
Repeating for each one the promise o'er
Of rich fulfillment—harvests in the years.
The fields of time, in which our visions soar
With roses to bloom and thorns but few,
May every worthy dream of youth come true."

—Martin.

Class Poem

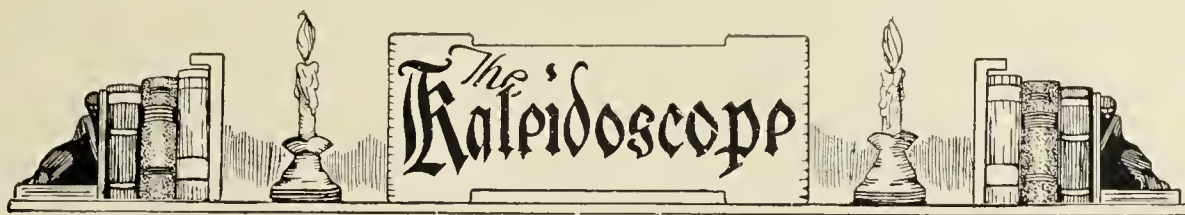

IN HI SCHOOL

For four short years we worked and played,
Took instructions and obeyed.
Now we're free to seek new ways,
But haven't we seen our best day,
In Hi School.

The best friends we've ever known
Seem now to be forever flown,
But memory of their friendships true
Reminds us of the gold and blue
In Hi School.

We're out of school, we've graduated,
And we're now called educated.
But we feel so full of woe
We wish for four more years to go
In Hi School.

—Albert Livingston.

Class History

Freshman

THE crystal ball of life had quickly sped around and a milestone in our lives had become a memory, for we had now completed our work in the grammar grades.

It was with a feeling of joy and a little fear that we made our debut into High School society as "Rats."

Indeed our class was so large that we had to be divided into three groups and placed under the direction of three teachers, namely, Miss Iola Johnson (now Mrs. Maloney), Miss Sallie B. Harrison and Miss Alice Gilbert. Naturally, it was quite a problem to become adjusted to the new teachers, new studies, and new classmates but we finally became accustomed to it. Due to some changes made two of the Freshman homerooms were given new teachers in February, Miss Doris Rathein and Miss Dorothy Richardson.

The baseball team of '29 was one of the most successful that has ever represented the high school and we were overjoyed when they scored two defeats over Petersburg for the first time in four years.

The new classrooms, associations, studies, debates, football games and other school activities which were so new to us proved to be thrilling and the days of our Freshman year came quickly to an end.

Sophomore

The history of our Sophomore years was most eventful and one which will be long remembered by every member of the class.

Our time was well filled with busy days of study and other curricula activities.

The annual minstrel presented this year by the high school pupils was much more successful than it had been in the past. A contest was held and a prize was offered to the person selling the most tickets. Otis Thompson, a member of one of the Sophomore homerooms was successful in winning first prize. The boys of the three classes organized a basketball team. They challenged many of the other homerooms and succeeded in winning all the games.

At Christmas time each of the groups contributed food, clothing and some toys. These were turned over to Mrs. Graham and were given to the poor.

This term Room 302 presented the Hollywood Review under the direction of Miss Dorothy Richardson. This was a new kind of entertainment and drew a large crowd. Many other similar entertainments were given, being sponsored by this homeroom. The money derived from this was turned over to the "Kaleidoscope," which was being published by our sister class. As a token of their appreciation for the help we gave them, the Seniors entertained us at a big party on the closing day of school.

We were delighted at the results of our work this year since only a small per cent of our class was not promoted. The closing of our Sophomore year brought us halfway to our goal Graduation!

—Alice Sutherland.

Junior

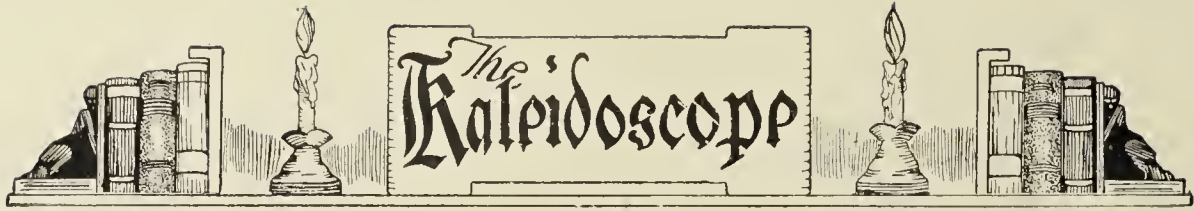

We entered the role of Juniors with a feeling of satisfaction. We had conquered the hardships and difficulties of our Freshman and Sophomore years and could now see our way clear with fewer obstacles to overcome.

This year brought many new teachers to Hopewell High School. It took us only a short time, however, to become acquainted with them and their methods of teaching.

At this time our classes were divided into three sections instead of four as is customary. This was due to the number of failures and students stopping school.

The annual High School Minstrel was a big success and following it we gave a "Mock Minstrel." The proceeds went for the benefit of the Junior-Senior banquet.

As the semester rolled on we looked eagerly forward to the greatest event of the season—the Junior-Senior banquet. We felt our importance in entertaining the high and mighty Seniors.

The occasion proved very successful and was immensely enjoyed by everyone.

This brought to a close our Junior year which marked our entrance into Senior life. Little did we realize how soon our high school career would end.

* * * * *

Senior

It would take much time and space to enumerate each little remembrance, each invention and each accomplishment of the members of our Senior family, so we will mention only the most outstanding ones.

Although we are unfortunate enough to graduate in this time of depression, our high school show proved very successful, the "Mock Minstrel" was given good support, and we were able to publish our annual. We feel greatly pleased with the results of our efforts.

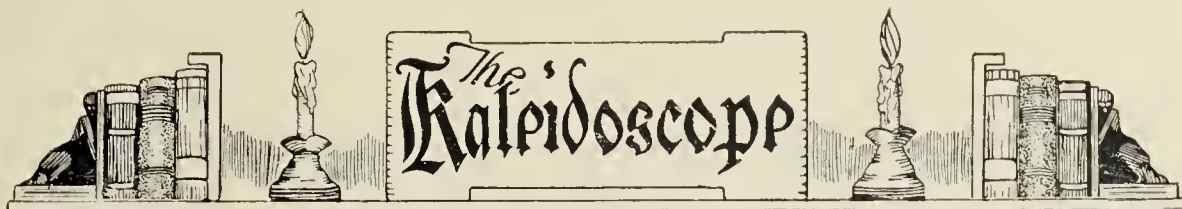

This year a Dramatic Club was formed under the direction of Mr. Ellis and Mr. Smith. Many of the students joined and much interest was shown.

We have been quite successful in athletics this year, especially in basketball, scoring victories over Petersburg in the double-header games played by both boys and girls. The baseball season opened by halting Petersburg's "winning streak." We were very proud of this as they had won twenty-two games in succession.

We are very grateful, indeed, to Miss Burch, Mr. Mallonee and each of our home room teachers for the splendid advice and cooperation they have given us. We realize what they have meant to us and that we would have been utterly lost without them. It is with deep regret that we bid good-bye.

As we look back over our past we see how each year we have prepared ourselves to meet the requirements of a graduate. Now that the curtain is about to fall, we are ready to make our exit, and re-enter on a new stage . . . the stage of "Life."

—Isabelle Futch.

Class Prophecy

NEW INVENTIONS and discoveries had always been of the greatest interest to me. Consequently I was very pleased when I received a letter asking me to call at 412 East 22nd Street the next day and inspect a new invention. The letter was unsigned. I called at the stated address the following day as requested. To my utmost surprise and pleasure I was received by my old Hopewell High classmate, Erasell Slocum.

He ushered me into a room littered with electrical apparatus. On the far side of the room was his invention, a radio equipped with television. The inventor told me that the amazing feature about his machine was that it would pick up any every-day sound.

I walked over to the set and connected the switch. I turned the dial and a large hospital appeared on the screen. In this hospital I recognized Forrest Glass, a busy doctor. Dorothy Elliott appeared as Superintendent of Nurses with Louise Brogdon, who was her first assistant.

Another turn of the dial showed me the monument then under construction to commemorate world disarmament. I looked hard into the screen to make sure that I recognized Winfrey Lane and Carl Lester directing the work. I already knew that the architect for the work was Steve Bogese, who was happily married to Annie Bobb.

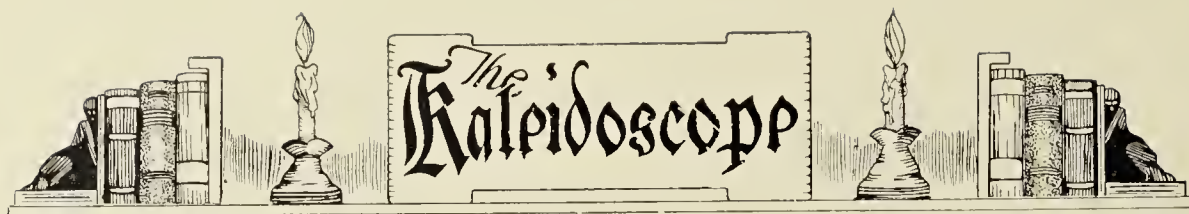

Turning the dial again I saw an oriental city's airport. Standing beside a powerful airship were Anne Goodson and Mabel Newton. They were getting ready to take off on the third leg of the first airplane trip around the world by women.

I now saw a busy office and recognized Eltis Davis, who was superintendent of the A. & P. stores in Virginia.

Every turn of the dial seemed to bring one of my old high school classmates into view. Forgetting my host and the outside world I sat and played with the dial on this fascinating invention.

Another office, but this was the headquarters of a large newspaper. On the side was a small office and printed on the door were the words, "John Elder, Cartoonist."

Noise! Cheering! Oh, just a major league baseball game. Looking closer I saw that the pitcher was Clarence Elliott and the catcher was Murry Oliver.

And now an auditorium packed with people. The speaker was Louis Aderholt, a candidate for United States Senate.

Another turn and I saw a small native village surrounded by a jungle. Starting out on another of his famous exploring trips, was Mr. Herbert Ford.

I next saw a fashionable beauty parlor. The owners were Judith Vivas and Wanona Glenn.

Turning the dial again I saw a building on a quiet street with the sign, "School of Elocution, Director, Miss Patsy Batte."

A large farm was the next image on the screen. The owners were Gilbert Atwater and Daniel Vtipil. These successful farmers were married to Helen Jozwiak and Emily Sodomka.

I now saw a quaint tea shop. It was one of a chain owned by Idell Améen and Annie Hood.

In a large city I saw looking through a beautiful new home Virginia Dailey and Arline Poland, Interior Decorators.

Another turn of the dial and I saw a large University. In the gymnasium was the Director of Athletics, Dennie Pritchard, talking to the coach of football, Clarence Cunningham.

A high school came into view. Walking down the hall were two teachers, Mauro Helms and Aurelis Savage.

Standing in a large fashion shop was Julian Pritchard, musical comedy king, talking to Elizabeth Huffman and Mary Powell, fashion experts. They were discussing the costumes to be worn by the star of his next production. I caught the name of the star. It was Isabelle Futch.

The next turn of the dial showed me a girl's college. I saw Christine Collier as Director of Physical Education.

William Elder was the next of my classmates to come into view. He was a well-known and respected minister.

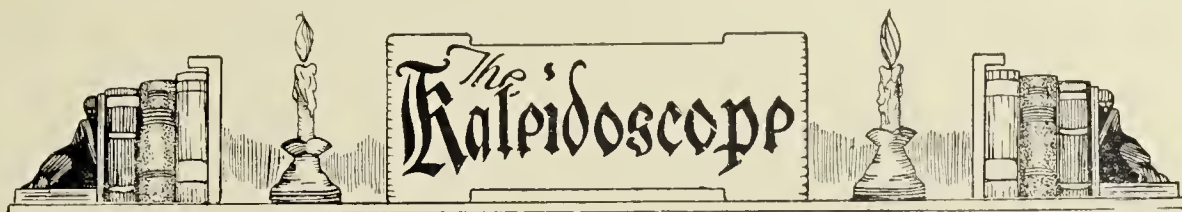

On an isolated strip of coast I saw Richard Cook and Edward Powell, inventors. They were working on a new type of gyroplane.

On the main street of a thriving city I saw the Motorcycle Sales Corporation of Emmett Cibula and Anton Jozwiak.

Another girl's school. A pupil was walking into an office. On the door were the words, "Miss Virginia Benesek, Head of English Department."

Another turn of the dial showed me John Burnett seated in the office of his wholesale grocery store.

At a doctor's meeting I saw Claude Wells and William Wicker. Albert Grosch and Jennings Hall appeared with the next turn of the dial. They were riding over their large rubber plantation.

A busy book shop now appeared on the screen. The owner was Henry Sherman. He was talking about the fine way Wilton Goodwin's new book was selling.

A night club. It was Paris. The owner, Wilburn Rivenbark, was announcing the star number on the entertainment program. It was Albert Livingston and Elizabeth Lewis. Walking among the tables was their hostess, Kathryn Holt.

Another turn of the dial showed me a large public park. In the center was a beautiful library. The head librarian was Louise Rouse.

China appeared on the screen. In a small village I saw Margaret and Evelyn Richeson, happy in their missionary work.

I recognized the Empire State Building in New York. In one of the private offices was Frank Swift dictating to his private secretary, Naomi Jamarik.

In a modiste shoppe I saw Pauline Weston and Louise Kurnas trying to help Lavinia Harrison select some clothes from their shop. She was getting ready for her approaching marriage to Clinton Dorset.

Another slight turn of the dial showed me Oakley Vaughan, a successful pharmacist.

In the downtown section of a city that appeared to be Hope-well, I saw Edith Marsh and Lavinia Slocum. They were getting some clothes for Lavinia's small child.

A motion picture studio appeared next. George Lampman was directing a play in which Alice Sutherland was the star and Dena Lee was supplying the comedy.

Kathryn Scott and Mary Lusk appeared in a small city. They were workers for the Women's Benefit Association and were organizing a new club.

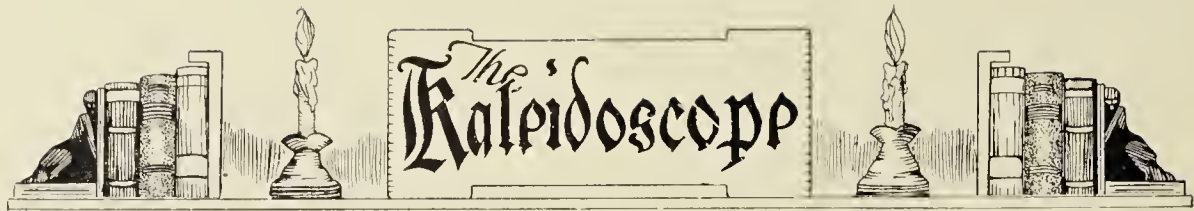

In a German city I saw Andrew Nemetz, a salesman for the Ingersall Jewelry Company.

Turning the dial again I saw Vera Keener making her calls as a city nurse.

Turning from the radio I became aware of my host. I thanked him for letting me inspect his invention, and promised to help him sell the invention to some financier. When I walked out on the street a new spring was in my step. I was happy because I had been brought closer to my old classmates, some of whom I hadn't seen since graduation.

—GEORGE LESCURE, Class Prophet.

Literary Societies and Clubs

Julia Robertson Home Economics Club

NOTHER year ended with the Home Economics Club the most active club in school.

At the beginning of the year we found that there was not enough room in the cottage to accommodate all the girls interested in Home Economics. What were we to do? A new department was added. A room in the high school was equipped and all the girls were accommodated.

Yes! Miss Harrison left us. We came to school to find that we had two new Home Economics teachers. Miss Florence Reese, teacher at the cottage, and Miss Lois Winston, soon to be Mrs. Turpin, teacher in the school department. We at once learned to love these teachers and to value their work.

Perhaps some of you wonder what happened to Miss Harrison. She was made supervisor of Home Economics in the State of Virginia. She comes to see us occasionally.

Mrs. Avery, one of the most loved persons in the state, came to see us last fall. We feel honored, that while in ill health she remembered her girls in Hopewell. We regret her death, and wish to follow the excellent example laid down by her.

Our Club has done many things this year. Instead of having a "Rummage Sale" as in previous years, we gave the clothes and toys collected from our Christmas Party to the poor.

Miss Katherine Sinclair was present at one of our meetings and gave us a very interesting talk on "Personality."

Miss Julia Robertson, our Club sponsor, showed her interest in us by sending us apples at Christmas and writing to us during the year.

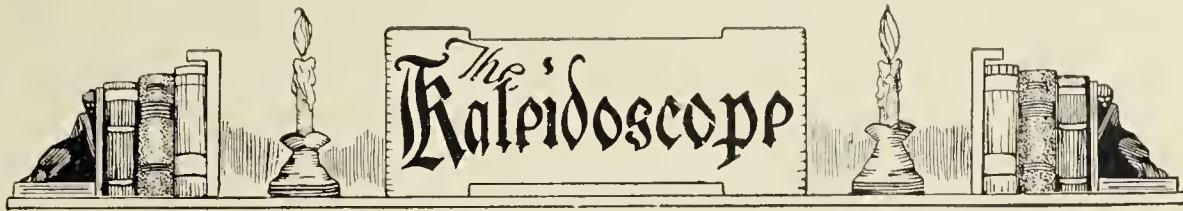

One of the Club members donated books to our Library.

We had girls from Atlee Home Economics Club to come to visit us. They thought we had a lovely house. This compliment made us proud of our cottage.

The first of May we had "Open House" at our cottage. The pupils and the public were invited to come and look over the cottage, and see what we were doing. They all seemed to have enjoyed it very much.

We expect to keep on.

Co-operative Student Government

The Co-operative Student Government Association is considered one of the best types of Student Government in the state, and has been used as a model for other schools to pattern from. The officers of the Student Council are chosen by the school at the beginning of every semester. They are composed of President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, and in every home room a person is elected to represent his or her home room. These officers meet monthly, and attend to all business of the student body.

During this semester we received very encouraging reports from the squads and aided in the city beautification week by keeping the school clean. The president and vice-president chose the squads, the chiefs being Louise Rouse, Assembly Squad; David Harrison, Traffic Squad; and Sarah Davis, Sanitation Squad.

Forensic Club

The Forensic Club, Mr. Leadbetter and Mr. Donohoe sponsoring, has been exceptionally successful during the term of 1931-32. The contestants mastered their opponents, Suffolk, Emporia, Highland Springs, and Crewe with ease. Although the debaters showed ability and thorough application they failed by a few points to win the trip to Charlottesville. Hopewell High School was represented at Charlottesville by our public speakers, Clara Faw and Chalmer Pritchard, Clara having won from Suffolk, Varina and Atlee while Chalmer was victorious over Suffolk, Crewe, Highland Springs and Emporia.

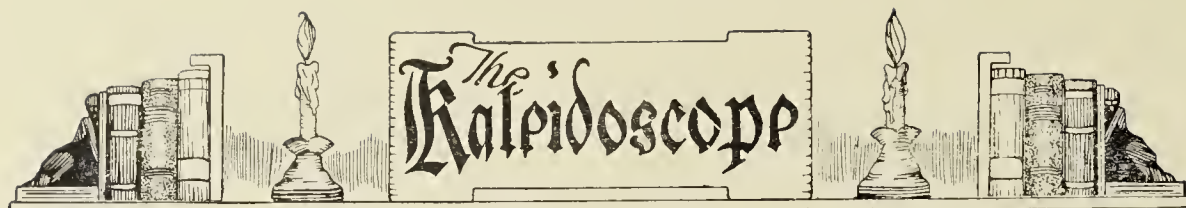

The following are the members of the teams:

Boys' Reader	Stuart Rivenbark
Girls' Reader	Marion Lewis
Boys' Speaker	Chalmer Pritchard
Girls' Speaker	Clara Faw

Hi-Y Club

"Clean thinking, clean speech, clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship."

The Hi-Y Club was reorganized with the help of Mr. Leadbetter, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Donohoe, our sponsors. Election of officers was the first step. The club elected Albert Livingston, President; Milton Kruger, Vice-President, and George Lescure, Secretary and Treasurer. As some of last year's members had graduated, five new members were elected. They were: Steve Bogese, Sam Herberner, John Elder, Bradly Slagle, and Ed Cunningham.

The club and sponsors were invited to dinner in Petersburg. After the dinner the Hopewell Club had a talk with Mr. L. F. Reichard, secretary of the Hi-Y Clubs of the State. Mr. Reichard gave us some very helpful suggestions.

The club as a whole wishes to thank Mr. Leadbetter, Mr. Thompson, and Mr. Donohoe for the fine way in which they have cooperated with us this year.

Monogram Club

This has been one of the most successful years of the Monogram Club. It is composed of students who have received letters for activities in athletics. The club is formed for furthering cleaner sports, higher ideals, and extension of athletics to a greater degree among the students in our school.

Several very interesting projects were formulated and carried out. The affairs were highly enjoyed by those who participated in them.

The officers of this club are as follows:

"Bubba" Livingston	President
Dennie Pritchard	Vice-President
Steve Bogese	Secretary-Treasurer

Latin Club

The "Latin Societas" reorganized this year with the help of our sponsor, Miss Mary Wenger. Election of new officers was our first step. The club elected Alice Sutherland, President; Annie Daniel, Secretary; Lavinia Harrison, Editor-in-Chief of the "Alipes Nuntius"; and Patsy Batte, Reporter.

Our first meeting was held in the Latin class room but during the remainder of the year the meetings were held at night in the homes of various members.

The "Alipes Nuntius," Latin paper and a new constitution for the club were our projects for the year, both of which were accomplished very successfully.

We admitted new Latin members from the lower classes as our membership was so small.

The club as a whole wishes to thank Miss Wenger for her splendid cooperation and help.

Library

Our Library has grown to over 2,000 books this year. In addition to gifts from students and teachers, we have had 305 new books, and nearly 400 pamphlets and pictures added. Forty-three magazines come regularly to the library. The books in the library are classified according to the Dewey decimal system of classification. Twelve lessons in the use of the library are given each semester to the Freshmen. During the month of April, 1932, 4,130 students and 238 teachers came to the library; 972 books, 1,318 magazines, 330 pictures, clippings and pamphlets, and 612 reference books were borrowed.

The following are the student assistants for 1931-32:

Librarian: Miss Goff

Home Rooms

7L-1 CLASS

We, the 7L-1 class of Hopewell High School, have only been here for a short time but we know what is expected of us, and will try to do so as far as possible.

We have worked hard under the instructions of Miss Martha Williams, our home room teacher, who has at all times tried to make our work easier and to help us improve it.

We have worked hard together and studied hard, and most of us have received good grades; many have gotten on the A-B Club. Our officers are Myra Birchett, President, and Alfred Green, Representative.

We hope to be promoted in June and continue our good work. We have, and always will, work for the good of H. H. S.

3L-1 CLASS

Well, well, well! If it isn't the old Junior Class writing this year! How fast time does fly. It seems as though only yesterday we entered High School as green Freshmen. Almost scared to hold our heads up straight! But nevertheless, here we are. We have gotten along just fine in our work this year. Several members of the class have gotten on the A-B Club every six weeks, and we are rather proud of them. Two of our girls, Cecelia Janosik and Eisie Economon won letters in basketball this year. Keep it up, girls! The best readers of the high school were chosen from our class: as girl reader, Marion Lewis; as boy reader, Stuart Rivenbark.

We are now planning for the annual Junior-Senior entertainment. We all know it will be a success by the way the pupils and teachers are cooperating.

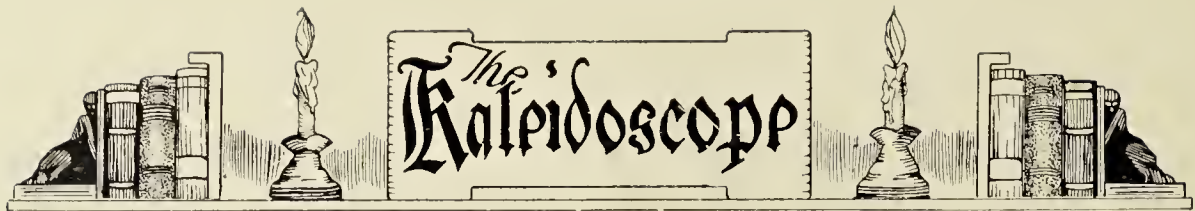

Nineteen hundred and thirty-two has been our red letter year, but we know 1933 has even better things in store for us.

3H-1 CLASS

We are certainly able to chalk up a successful year for 202. Christine Parker was our star debater, and Chalmer Pritchard and Clara Faw won a trip to Charlottesville on their speaking ability.

Only one thing slightly marred an almost perfect year. Buster Lazenby was unlucky in love. First he was struck by Mrs. Thompson's beauty. Before long he fell for Miss Rathien, our own homeroom teacher, only to be bitterly disappointed when Miss Rathien became Mrs. Hubbard. He forgot all when he began working on Virgil, but whether he won the Virgil tournament or not, we know he came out near the top.

We're still working hard to give those hungry Seniors a grand banquet and one that they will never forget.

3H-2 CLASS

The latter part of the Junior year is drawing to a close for the following pupils, who have enjoyed having Miss Nellye Roberts, with her pleasant ways, as our home room teacher.

4L-1 CLASS

The 4L-1 Class has almost reached the end of its school career. We are proud of our room and of the interest it has taken in school affairs. We feel that we have accomplished a great deal, and hope that we shall accomplish more next year.

We elected the following officers: President, Steven Belcher; Representative, Annie Daniels; Secretary, Virginia Hughes. We feel that they have served us well. We appreciate the aid of our teacher, Miss Chambliss, and hope to have her next year.

We realize that we as Seniors have a great responsibility, and shall attempt to set a good example. We hope that we shall be able to serve the "Kaleidoscope" and to make it a better success.

We wish to thank our teachers for their efforts in our behalf. We hope that we shall have them with us next year to share with us a successful termination of our high school career.

4H-1 CLASS

September, 1931, rolled around, and we, who had been eager Juniors were then ambitious Seniors which we had been working for for three long years.

Our Senior class of 1932 has been very successful, not by ourselves, but with the cooperation of our home room teacher, Mrs. Parsons.

Our main goal was the publishing of the "Kaleidoscope" and graduating.

The Hopewell Blue Devils opened the 1931 season with a 6-0 triumph over a much heavier Newport News team. This reversed the score of last year which was 27-0 in favor of our opponents. We are proud to be the only team to beat Newport News this year, for they were later awarded the Class A Championship of the Virginia Literary and Athletic League.

The second game of the season ended, after a hard fight, with our boys on the small end of the score: Hampton, 6; Hopewell, 0.

Our team made its first home ground stand against the strong Alexandria High School. After being held for downs on the two-yard line three times, Hopewell crashed through for a touchdown in the second quarter, and came back after the half to make another. The try for the extra point after both touchdowns was unsuccessful. The game ended 12-0 in our favor. Incidentally, Alexandria won the Class B. Championship.

Hopewell High School was host to the South Norfolk team for the fourth game of the season. South Norfolk had previously tied with Maury High School of Norfolk, and the dope seemed to be against us, but before a large home crowd, the boys came through with a 13-0 triumph.

Hopewell High School journeyed to Clarendon, Virginia the following Friday, where they played Washington and Lee High School. Our line was greatly out-weighted, but by using the forward pass with success in the third and fourth quarters, we won with the score of 27-0.

The Yellow Jackets of Fredericksburg High School paid their first visit to Hopewell, and were turned back by the score of 14-0.

The biggest game of the season was with our ancient and cherished rivals of Petersburg, which ended in a 7-0 defeat for our gridiron warriors. For the first time in the history of the school, Hopewell was favored to win.

South Hill High School came to Hopewell following the game with Petersburg. Our team seemed to have benefited by the defeat the past Friday, and ran wild, rolling up 67 points to South Hill's 0.

The last game of the season was played with the Charlottesville School for Boys. In this game our team played their first night game. On three occasions we scored touchdowns, but every time, the referee ruled one of our linesmen off-side.

The 1931 Football team enjoyed the best season in the history of our school. It was one of the best defensive teams in the state. The schedule this year was the hardest ever attempted by a Hopewell football team. Our opponents scored only 13 points, while we made a total of 169 points. We owe much credit to Coach Parson who worked hard and faithfully to produce a winning team.

Hopewell, by virtue of winning over 50 per cent of their games, was invited to play in the annual South Atlantic Basketball Tournament at Washington and Lee University. Spartansburg, South Carolina, runner-up in last year's tournament, put Hopewell out of the running in their first game 28-20. Spartansburg later reached the finals. The bright spot of the Basketball season was the defeat of Petersburg twice. Let's hope our quintets continue the good work.

Theodore Herbener: "Don't cry, sweetheart. I'll give you another."

—O—

Frank Wheeler: "What's the matter with your feet?"

Harry Stanley: "I've got corns."

Frank W.: "Why don't you do something for them?"

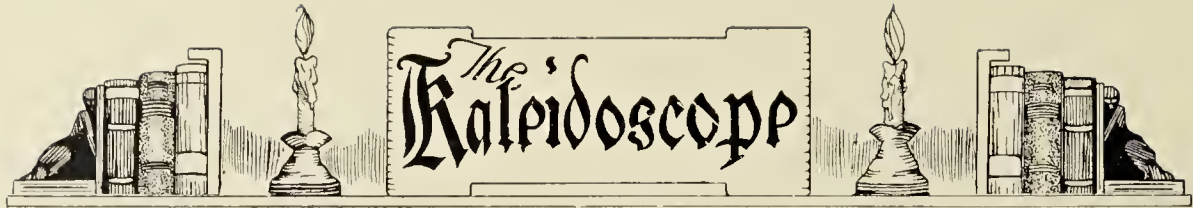

Harry S.: "Why should I? They've never done anything for me."

—O—

George Lampman: "I am 21 today but I can't vote."

Sam Herbener: "Why is that, George?"

George: "Because there is no election today."
